Moon

Without you my night melt into agony
Without you there is no sound to live
I'm just walking in roads of loneliness
These days burying me in cold emptiness

Love me switching dark sides into twinkle guiding lights
Crush on me in million of miracle clouds to the end of the spiral of time
Give me your arms and we'll make magic shadows across the sky
Magnetic hands take my dry eyes and rain me a little while

Crystal spires drill on me when you walk away
I'm a spaceman light years away sliding in the dark
Searching for your smile in the middle of nowhere
Send me a lullaby to take me to your place

Soft through my eyes a forest of you
I love you in constellations sailing eons
Riding stars thinking of you
There is nothing like you in waves of life
I just want to paint my walls of you
I only want to stick my mind all over of you
